

FROM THE PASTOR'S STUDY

Dear Church Family,

Even though we find ourselves in the early weeks of Lent, with Easter still a ways off, I want to draw your attention to a timely and important program we'll be offering in May.

In response to numerous conversations following last November's elections, it has become clear that we, as a church and as a town, are hungry for greater empathy and understanding across lines of difference. In several gatherings I attended last fall, I heard people lament the vitriol that surfaced even in our local elections. At one of our October men's group meetings, when asked what concerned them most in life right now, the dominant answer was "the division in our country."

While we can all point to the reality of that division, the question of what to do about it can feel elusive. In response to both the concern and the uncertainty, I reached out to our friend Rev. Allen Hilton, founder of the House United Movement, to explore whether we might pilot a process of dialogue here in New Canaan, something that could help us better understand each other's lived experiences, convictions, and perspectives.

Allen recommended a simple but powerful practice: a structured, respectful conversation designed to deepen understanding rather than change opinions. It's not about finding common ground on issues, but about seeing the person across from us more clearly understanding how they came to be who they are and what they value. It's about building empathy through listening and, perhaps, even friendship through shared humanity.

With support from local clergy, elected leaders from both sides of the aisle, and other community partners, we will host an event on Thursday, May 16, at the Lapham Center called "Let's Talk, New Canaan." Our goal is to gather individuals from across the political spectrum, Republican, Democrat, Independent, unsure, and everything in between, for a facilitated morning of listening, learning, and mutual respect.

This initiative isn't about taking a side or winning an argument. It's about being faithful to our calling as followers of Christ to be peacemakers in the places we live. At its heart, this is an act of spiritual hospitality—inviting others to share their story and committing ourselves to listen well. If successful, this effort

2025-2026 Artist-in-Residence Stephanie Joyce

Stephanie Joyce is our liturgical artist-in-residence this year. She has been a member of our congregation since her children, Sam and Sophie, were in school. She now spends her time in Sag Harbor in her artist's studio as well as in Brooklyn. Stephanie has been active in the church, serving as a Stephen Minister and participating in women's fellowship, retreats, Bible study, and mission trips. She has led groups in painting, yoga, meditation in the salt caves, and sound healing. Stephanie also traveled to Israel and Africa with the church. She worked with the children in Africa and the OG group to create murals inspired by the landscape and culture, as well as worked on building a shelter for the Beloved Daughters of the Maasai. Her membership with the Church has been a meaningful and enriching part of her life.

In creating her art, a connection to the natural world is made, and the subtle realms are revealed. We are all invited to enter and surrender to the mystery. The landscapes, symbols, and organic forms that emerge in Stephanie's work mirror life and call for reflection and nurturing of the soul.

Growing up in the countryside of Virginia, her mother was an artist, and her father fostered a love of community and the natural world. She has been a lifelong artist, earning a BFA from Parsons School of Design in NY. After a career in design, her focus now is on painting, printmaking, and assemblage. Stephanie's art has been exhibited throughout the country, in Europe, and in Asia. She studied yoga, meditation, and sound healing in India as well as attended an artist residency there. She also taught art to children at Ramana's Garden orphanage in Rishikesh, India. In the community, Stephanie served as a Hospice volunteer. She is also a guild member of Silvermine Arts Center and served on the board. Her creative focus is art as a vehicle for collaboration, connection, exploring diverse cultures, and healing.

SUPPORT OF OUR MISSION TO THE DELTA!

Join us for Youth Sunday Thank You Mission Sponsors!

Our mission would not have been possible without the prayers, love, and gifts from our Mission Sponsors! Please join us for our Youth Worship Service on Sunday, March 8, at 10:00am to hear reflections from our YG mission fish, followed by a lovely fellowship coffee hour and a preview of our YG Mission Trip video.

2026 YG Mission Trip to Arkansas!

With the grace of God and the unwavering support of our Mission Sponsors and church community, YG had the incredible opportunity to travel to Helena–West Helena, Arkansas, during the February break for our 2026 Mission Trip. 108 mission fish gathered at the church for a joyful send-off dinner before boarding an early-morning flight, hearts ready for a week that would challenge, stretch, and inspire us.

Our trip was guided by the powerful words of Amos 5:24: “But let justice roll on like a river, righteousness like a never-failing stream.” This verse became more than a theme — it became our call to action as we reflected on what justice means for us and the work that we do as a community.

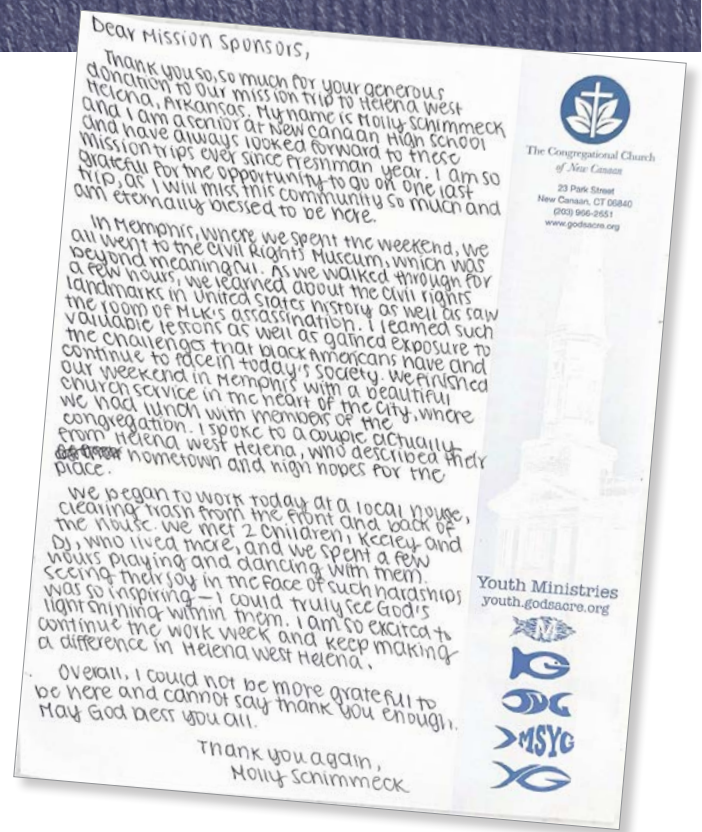

We began the weekend in Memphis, partnering with Second Baptist Church and visiting the National Civil Rights Museum. Standing in a place so deeply rooted in the ongoing fight for justice grounded our hearts in the deeper “why” behind our service. From there, we traveled to Helena–West Helena, where we partnered with Together for Hope Arkansas and were housed by Delta Circles, an extraordinary nonprofit dedicated to creating opportunities and long-term support for children and families in the Delta region. Delta Circles welcomed us with warmth and generosity, and it quickly became clear that this community is built on resilience, hope, and deep love for its people.

YOUTH MINISTRIES

Throughout the week, our mission fish poured themselves into projects that serve as true cornerstones of the community. Teams worked diligently to repair and restore a domestic violence women's shelter, creating safer and more dignified spaces for women and children in vulnerable moments. Others revitalized a beloved community pool — a place of gathering and joy — ensuring it can continue to serve families for years to come. Another group partnered with the local Boys & Girls Club, strengthening a space where children learn, grow, and feel known. Our students worked with humility and gratitude, understanding that justice is not always loud — sometimes it looks like steady faithfulness, showing up for communities, and honoring the dignity of every neighbor.

We ended the week filled with Christ's love — love that we witnessed in our partners, in the leaders at Delta Circles, in the congregants at Second Baptist Church, and in the resilient spirit of the Helena-West Helena community. We are overwhelmingly proud of our mission fish and the strength, maturity, and tenderness they displayed. Helena-West Helena, Arkansas, will forever hold a sacred place in our YG story.

MISSIONS & OUTREACH

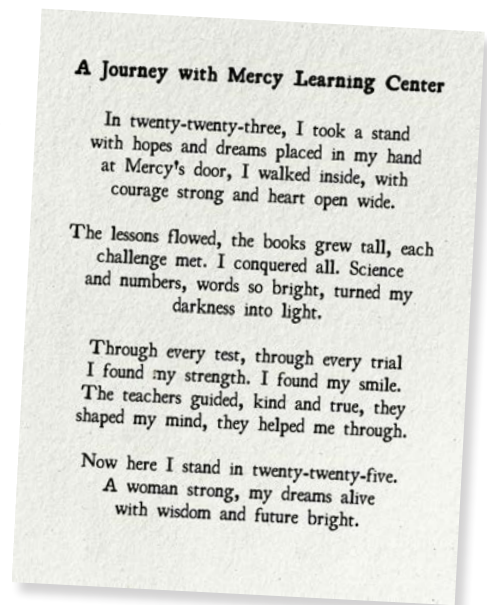

MSA Spotlight – Mercy Learning Center

Mercy Learning Center is a Bridgeport-based nonprofit organization that “transforms women’s lives through education.” In 2024, our Missions and Social Action Committee (MSA) sought to partner with an organization that focused on helping the most vulnerable women in our area. Mercy Learning Center offers a supportive, and compassionate environment where mothers and children (from 3 months to 5 years) can thrive. MLC was founded in 1987 to provide free literacy and life skill education to low-income women. In the first 10 years, MLC added a full-time literacy program, childcare, access to a social worker, a learning specialist, and an on-site clothing store. The past 2 decades have continued to enrich the student experience with English as a second language and GED programs, a food pantry, and a fully accredited mother/toddler literacy program. The programs provided enable the graduating women to become skilled employees and assist their children to become better learners, as they can stay confidently engaged in their child’s education. Their motto is “educate a woman, educate a family,” and they have educated over 13,000 women thus far.

MSA has provided funding for MLC to purchase textbooks and workbooks for its English Learning, ABE, and GED instruction, and life skills programming. Our funds in 2025 helped install a security and PA system that covers the entire building and the playground, enabling school-wide communication. 600 women and 75 children are currently enrolled at Mercy Learning Center. As a church community, we can engage as tutors, lending a hand in the childcare program, or support a diaper or food drive for the pantry. Keep an eye out for more information about MLC in 2026! Stephen Ministers Weekend 2026 Retreat

"Every day I want to speak with you. And every day something more important calls for my attention...Why do I flee from you?... Help me."

— Prayer by Marie Howe

Sixteen of our Stephen Ministers recently braved record cold temperatures and snowy roads to return to Trinity Retreat Center in northern Connecticut for rest, quiet, prayer, reflection, and connection. Resident retreat leader, Rev. Mark Bozzuti-Jones, welcomed us warmly, guided us through a deep breathing exercise, and then invited each of us to speak about our own faith journey. Members shared honestly, inspiring the rest to do the same. We all felt "heard, respected, trusted, and encouraged by everyone," as one participant commented.

During the rest of the day, we explored what it means to listen fully to others and to God, and the importance of silence in order to hear God. Rev. Mark pointed out the paradox of opposites being true at the same time (e.g., nothing happens by accident, yet life is random), and our need to embrace change and challenges as an opportunity to deepen our understanding of faith and resilience. He reminded us that God does not "blame & shame," that we shouldn't allow others to do that to us, and we shouldn't do that to others. He suggested we silently consider how we can change to become closer to God, and to ask God what He can do for us. Challenging us to be the ones who see the light and live life abundantly, he also dared us to become one of the few who become the light for others. Two of the spiritual methods he shared were lectio divina (reflecting on what we as individuals felt was important in a specific scripture or poem), and visio divina (meditating on art or an image to allow the Holy Spirit to speak through it).

Before some participants needed to leave Saturday afternoon, Rev. Mark invited us to reach into a basket of polished stones without looking and let a stone with a word on it choose us. The printed mantras such as “seek,” “heal,” “pray,” “courage,” and “love,” became inspiring mementos of a special day. Those who stayed overnight enjoyed another farm-to-table delicious meal, then spent an hour alone with a selection of poems and writings, and journaled what these sparked in them. We eased into the slower rhythm of a spiritual community with evening and morning services in the charming, candle-lit stone chapel.

All of us returned rested and refreshed, hoping that our time in retreat would help us to be even more compassionate caregivers to those in our church facing challenging times in their lives.

With you on the journey,
Gail Banigan, Jeanne Fredericks, and Kathy Johnston
